CV of Rachael Kelsey

Rachael is a Scottish Solicitor accredited by the Law Society of Scotland both as a Specialist in Family Law and as a Family Mediator. She trained as a Collaborative lawyer in 2004. She is immediate past Chair of the Family Law Association - the organisation of family law practitioners in Scotland.

Rachael and her colleagues are in the top tier of family lawyers in Scotland in the Legal 500 and Rachael is recognised as an expert on family law in the Legal Experts 2008 directory and in Chambers and Partners UK Guide to the Legal Profession. She has recently been designed in the press as "Scotland's gay divorce expert". She is a regular contributor to the broadcast and print media in Scotland and the UK in relation to Scots Family Law.

Rachael practises in both Scotland's Supreme and lower courts, where she regularly appears personally. Her particular expertise is in complex financial or child cases which have jurisdictional, tax and/or trust issues.
